Pets parade at Tularcitos

PETS WERE ON PARADE at the summer recreation program last week Monday at Tularcitos School. Here are a couple of winners, Carol Irving holding "Scooter" who won a blue ribbon for having the "most worried expression" and Ronnie Nielsen whose puppy, "Peanuts," took first place for "the best name." More photos will be published next week.

deMaria's announce plans for former Cowan school property

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo de Maria will soon move to Carmel Valley and occupy their newly acquired property, Rippling River Resort. The deMarias, who purchased the former Cowan School property, have engaged Comstock Associates who are completing architectural plans for the proposed remodeling of the existing buildings.

Although actual construction will not begin for approximately two months, preliminary clean-up and clearing of the property has already started. The first units are expected to be ready for occupancy in about five months with January first set as the opening date.

Mr. and Mrs. deMaria will occupy the original house which is a wing of the main building. The restaurant will be also located there, utilizing what was the school kitchen and dining room.

Plans for the restaurant menu will include a different specialty for each of the five week nights. Continental and foreign dishes will be featured. Mrs. deMaria who enjoys Indian food stated that one of the first things on the menu will be curries. "Atmosphere and cooking will be entirely different from anything now in the Valley," she said.

When the entire complex is completed it will include 32 hotel or motel units, 5 of which will have garden patios, public dressing rooms for the pool, a retail store and potter's studio, and the restaurant and bar with facilities for 60 persons.

Red Feather leaders told

Mrs. Mark C. Thomas of Scarlet Road will serve as chairman of the Peninsula's residential phase of the Community Chest's 1965-66 campaign. Campaign goal has been set at $195,000.

Mrs. Mark Hattan has been appointed residential chairman for Carmel Valley. Assisting her will be Mrs. Robert Harris, vice chairman of the Lower Valley; Mrs. Rex Pryer, vice chairman of the Upper Valley and Mrs. A. M. Massaglia, vice chairman of Robles Del Rio.

September 27th is target date for the drive and anyone willing to volunteer for any of the three districts is asked to phone Mrs. Hattan at 659-2468.

Construction starts on bath houses for Community Pool; volunteers cut costs

Construction began last week on the bath house and dressing rooms at the Carmel Valley Community Pool, turning into a reality the dream of many a Valley resident.

Although the Community Center fund raising drive is still in full swing, the response from recently mailed contribution requests has been so rewarding that it has become feasible to go ahead with the building immediately, according to Bob Jones, president of the board.

The original building costs were estimated at close to $15,000. However, through efforts of a number of volunteers, contractors, builders, electricians, plumbers, carpenters, etc. the plans were worked over with former board member Doyt Early, and Mr. Jones and the costs cut to $8,000.

This was made possible only through the offers of local suppliers and craftsmen donating time and materials at cost. It was through similar generous offers that the pool building costs were substantially decreased last year.

According to contractor Dick Gayman, the building should be up in 45 days at the outset. The paving of driveways and parking areas will also be completed during this time. The projected plans will then be virtually completed with the exception of minor details, including landscaping.

The recent $4,000 donation of the Bing Crosby Youth Fund will cover half of the cost of construction. Community Center board members expressed a hope that the sight of the dress-sing rooms becoming a reality will stimulate contributors and remind them of the exceptional recreational facilities now available in the Valley for both children and adults.

CV Lou Gardner's brother named by LBJ to Cabinet Health post

News of the appointment of John W. Gardner as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, reached his brother, Lou Gardner, owner of Blue Sky Lodge, through a KIDD radio broadcast Tuesday morning.

Lou said they are both so busy that they rarely write and he usually receives information of his brother's activities through the news media.

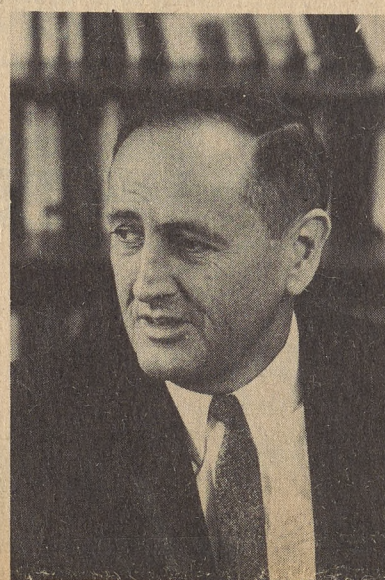

John Gardner will assume the duties of present secretary, Anthony Celebrezze in the Cabinet.

Mr. Gardner has been with the Carnegie Corporation since 1946 and was elected its president and of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching in 1955. He received his Ph.D. in psychology at University of California and taught at Connecticut College and at Mount Holyoke.

U.N. ADVISOR

During the war he was chief of the Latin American Section of the Foreign Broadcast Intelligence Service and later became a part of the O.S.S. in the Marine Corps. In addition, he has been an advisor to the United Nations and is a trustee of the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City.

Lou Gardner said his brother

is author of two books used widely in educational work. "Excellence," deals with the lack of high performance standards in many areas of American life and what can be done to encourage better levels. "Self-Renewal" discusses the nourishment of the creative approach and the development of energy and purpose in the individual. Saturday Review and Reader's Digest have also carried many articles by Lou's brother.

TWO DAUGHTERS

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner have lived in Hartsdale, a suburb of New York for about 19 years.

They have two married daughters, one of whom has just recently received her law degree from Stanford University.

Lou said he didn't know whether or not they planned a move upon acceptance of the new Cabinet post.

Garden Club slates tour

Carmel Valley Garden Association will make an excursion to the home of "Sunset" magazine in Menlo Park on August 5.

A guided tour of their demonstration gardens will be featured.

The group will go by chartered bus, leaving Tularcitos School in the Village at 9 a.m.

Lunch will be arranged at Allied Arts for those who desire.

The charge for the transportation will be between three and four dollars.

Non members may join the group by calling 659-2058 or 659-4240.

ARABIAN HORSE SHOW winners will be awarded handsome ceramic horse heads made by Carmel Valley's Mrs. Rod McArthur of CV Road. She is shown putting finish on one of the heads just after it has come out of her kiln. Sitting on the fence is daughter Susan, who will compete in the show this weekend on her Arabian, Latigo de los Vientos. That's Raggy in the foreground. See page 6 for more on the Arabian Horse Show.

White Oaks' musical

Brigadoon pleasant evening's entertainment

"Brigadoon" is not the great musical play that "Oklahoma!" is but, never-the-less, the young people at White Oaks Theatre make of it a very pleasant summer evening's entertainment.

Tracy Carr's fine voice does justice to such lovely songs as "It's Almost Like Being In Love" and "Heather on the Hill," and Mary Pattie and Mike Byers carry off the comedy leads with much charm. Miss Pattie's "The Love of My Life" and "My Mother's Wedding Day" are the liveliest business of the evening and one feels it a pity that Mr. Beyers has no songs to sing.

The dance numbers are gracefully staged and, although it must be difficult for boys to dance in tartans, the White Oaks company was not hindered by this, particularly in a sword dance featuring Skip Haston and Mitch Marco.

Choreographer Angine Feves dances two solos herself with much skill, but the most poignant scene for this reviewer is when Sandra Lundwall as "Jean," dances on her wedding night to "Come to Me, Bend to Me."

Other notable contributions come from Robert Davis (Curly in "Oklahoma!") whose voice booms out in a few solo passages from the chorus and John O'Connell playing a kibitzing bartender.

John Logan makes the best 19-year-old "old" man we've ever beheld as "Mr. Lundie" who closes the play with these lines: "For those who love deeply, even miracles are possible," which sums it up nicely.

Helping create a fairy-tale atmosphere of misty mountain magic is the lighting by Joan Larkin, the poetic prettiness of the costumes by Jim Swain and the accompaniment of Musical Director Chris Nance at the piano, Thomas and Gregory Janusz on bass, drums, and an accordion for special bagpipe effects.

The Scottish atmosphere was especially authentic on opening night when the Salinas Highlanders entertained with pipe and drum in full regalia.

"Brigadoon" will continue through August 8, playing on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Kiwanis hears N.Y. stories

Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club visited New York City and the World's Fair, through the eyes of Joe Ricupero, club secretary, who told about his recent vacation there with his family.

He also showed colored slides, taken by Susie Lang, who accompanied them.

Joe returned a double devotee of Carmel Valley, after wearing himself out hiking around the big city and fair. Although he lived there and area for 35 years, he said it is now a grim place with problems of racial violence.

He was introduced by Lou Gardiner.

A delegation of local Kiwanians planned to attend an area bar-b-que at Watsonville Sunday.

Dr. Dean Campbell was recently elected a member of the board of directors.

Celebrates first year

VALLEY LIONS CLUB SCORES SERVICE RECORD

Carmel Valley Lions Club has just wound up its first year with a remarkable record of community service.

New President George Baker, successor to retiring prexy Bill Hall, who steered the club through its initial year, has a record of accomplishment to maintain.

How did a club so young achieve so much so soon?

"Most clubs are are heavy with Indians," explained Clyde Hitchcock, a club director, "but few Chiefs -- but ours is the reverse. We have been blessed with many outstanding workers."

For this reason, he said he preferred to name no names in reviewing the story of the Carmel Valley Lions first year. "The credit goes to just about everybody."

During the past year, the local Lions Club raised and donated more than $1,200 to various worthy projects.

It began with a White Cane Sale, which netted nearly $500 for aid to those with impaired sight. Of this, about $350 was promptly used to pay the hospital bill of a patient requiring eye surgery.

Next, the local Lions promoted a successful Hootenany at "The Warehouse" in Monterey. A variety of artists appeared to make the sight-conservation fund-raising affair go over the top.

Assisted by the Lionettes' group, which includes wives of members, a gala Wine and Roses Ball was sponsored, netting approximately $500.

Other Carmel Valley Lions' gifts, included a $100 contribution to the Carmel Valley Fire Department towards furnishing its new ambulance. Another $100 went for Christmas trees, for parties for children and for various other Valley activities, such as Little League.

"Valley people have been good to the Lions Club with their support," Hitchcock said. "The Lions appreciate the trust of the community, because Lionism is rated not on how much money is raised, but on how well it is spent."

A highlight of the year was the regional student-speaker contest, which the local Club hosted in the Community Center last fall. Winning students from four high schools competed in the contest, which was won by a Negro girl from Seaside.

A recent honor was selection of Hitchcock of the Carmel Valley Club to be Lions' Zone Chairman, serving six clubs.

The local club also sent a large delegation to the Northern California District convention at Hoberg's Resort where the plaudits were generous for the accomplishments of such a new club now consisting of 41 members.

Presidents—new and old

Carmel District teachers range 'round the country for summer school study

Forty seven faculty members and administrators from Carmel District schools are taking special summer school studies, Supt. Medill Bair announced this week.

Seventeen are studying in various universities and colleges throughout the country and another 20 are participating in special local training programs.

Four Carmel High School instructors are studying on grants of the John Hay Fellows Summer Programs. John Farr is studying at Williams College, Massachusetts; Raymond Gere at Bennington College, Vermont; John Graham at University of Oregon, and Peter Lyon at University of Colorado.

Miss Nellie Jane Ryder of the high school received a special grant to attend the "Summer Institute for Educational Media Specialists" at San Jose State.

Miss Dorothy Wright also of Carmel High attended Cubberley Behavioral Science Conference at Stanford University.

Those from other Carmel District schools taking summer courses include:

Mrs. Anna Kohner, principal of Woods and Carmelo Schools; Mrs. Kay Goines, Mrs. Betty Roth, Miss Enid Palmerlee and Joseph Lowe, Jr. attended Dr. John Goodlad's summer workshop on "School and Curriculum Organization: Non-Grading and Team Teaching" at UCLA.

Miss Sally McPhail and Miss Christine Christy are attending summer session at the University of Hawaii.

Mrs. Janet Herben and Philip Smith are attending summer session at San Francisco State.

William Mallek, principal of Tularcitos School is attending summer session at U.C. at Berkeley.

A reading workshop to be held locally in August will be attended by Mrs. Shirley Graham, Mrs. Ruth Peace, Mrs. Alice Powell and Mrs. Betty Roth.

Teachers who are participating in the Carmel Elementary Science Summer School at River School are: Marvin Patterson, Albert Kolb, Peter Glod, Herbert Reuter, Philip Smith, Mrs. Lucy Foster, Miss Kathleen Byrne, Miss Nancy Loyd, Miss Darby Moss and Mrs. Sarah Russell. The summer school, a pilot program, is under the direction of Dr. Abraham Fischler, Professor of Education at the University of California, and Dr. William Shaner, Consultant.

An English Workshop for Carmel teachers, conducted by Norman Naas, director of Secondary curriculum from the Mt. Diablo Unified School District, includes the following participants: Luther Askew, Lloyd Baskerville, Mrs. Kay Goines, Mrs. Romaine Hill, Mrs. Priscilla Nesbitt and Frederic Rainer.

State Forestry fire crew wins gold trophy in Carmel contest

Firemen from the Tularcitos Forestry station returned with honors and a gold trophy for winning the hose cart race during the three day celebration marking the golden anniversary of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department.

Competing with teams from Carmel, Pacific Grove and Monterey, the Upper Valley Squad took their places in front of the fire station and took off at the firing of Carmel's miniature cannon.

Careening at break neck speed down hill and around the block, painted gold for the festivities, and pulling an old fashioned hose cart, the crew was required to hook onto a fire hydrant and knock a barrel off a saw horse with a fifty foot stream of water.

The time of 57.1 seconds won for Tularcitos and prompted the Carmel Department to place the following advertisement: "Embarrassment forces sale of used racing hose cart and crew. Will consider trade for faster model. Carmel Volunteer Fire Department. 624-3838!"

The winners (several of whom are peak conditioned football players) were; Robert Boyer, Kim Pisor, Richard Tiller, John Heydeman, and George Tous-saint. Many Valley residents attended the races and the dance which followed at the fire house.

Teachers on TV for special summer school program here

An exciting experimental program is going on at River School in Carmel this summer, involving some 300 elementary school children and 11 teachers.

Known as "Science Curriculum Improvement Study" it uses TV recording equipment for teacher in-training, during summer school.

Financed by the National Science Foundation, it is being staged with the cooperation of the University of California at Berkeley and directed by Dr. Abraham Fischler, professor of science education there.

RECORDED ON VIDEO

In effect, River School is running a school for children in the morning and a school for teachers every afternoon. Each morning a class is photographed and recorded by video tape and equipment on loan.

Each afternoon the eleven teachers gather to watch the video of a teacher teaching, and to analyze and identify their teaching patterns and the effects on the students.

"This is the first time many of the teachers have been able to see themselves objectively," Dr. Fischler remarked. "This is occasionally painful, but the results often can be fantastically good."

"We haven't lost anyone yet," Dr. Fischler quipped.

Carmel school principals are making a habit of dropping in on these sessions.

Dr. Fischler chose Carmel for his program through his friendship with Supt. of Schools Medill Bair who he met in Lexington, Mass., when he was directing experiments at Harvard.

TEACHER REACTION

How do teachers and students react to being actors in front of a TV camera?

"At first, when you would walk in and see the TV camera pointed at you, your heart would sink," Phil Smith, a fourth grade teacher at Carmello School, admitted. "But in a few minutes you and the children forgot it's there."

Although he said the entire program which features much new material is hard work, he is enthusiastic about it all. "It gives a new outlook, new life to teaching. It's really a challenge."

The critiques of teachers' methods, following viewing of the TV recordings, were so novel and different that he said they were welcomed. It isn't difficult to be objective about seeing yourself on TV and hearing analysis, he added.

MORE PROFESSIONAL

Smith thinks the new method is a major step forward in making the teaching more professional. "I hope we can follow through and more of our teachers can participate," he said.

It's a full day for the teachers at River School. Summer school starts at 8:30 and lasts to 12:30. Then the teachers continue with the seminars until 4:30. The program winds up July 30.

Included each day is an hour of science instruction. Science books from all Carmel District schools have been assembled at River School to make up a first-rate library for use by the students.

A large quantity of brand new material, which came down in a full truck load from UC at Berkeley, is being initiated in the program. Besides science, new math materials using "Madison Project" sources from Syracuse University. Reading is also featured daily.

Art is generally offered daily and music twice weekly for the students, who are from 2nd through 8th graders.

Sheriff's Blotter

Motorcyclists warned about mufflers

Sheriff Jack Davenport announced that several residents of Carmel Valley and surrounding areas are altering their motorcycle mufflers to make more noise. This makes muffler

Sheriff Jack Davenport announced that several residents of Carmel Valley and surrounding areas are altering their motorcycle mufflers to make more noise. This is illegal and deputy sheriffs will start issuing citations to all persons driving such altered motorcycles, he said.

July 18--John O. Beal of Via Travesia, Robles Del Rio, reported that a red, white and blue 1950 Mercury station wagon had driven recklessly across the road onto a vacant lot twice. The deputy recognized the unusual vehicle and knows its owner.

July 14--Mrs. Jennie E. Dollar of Monterey reported that some time during the last two months a Kentucky plantation bell, 21 1/2 feet by 1 1/2 feet in size, made of black iron and swivel mounted on a four-inch post was stolen from her Carmel Valley property.

July 15--The mother of Nancy J. Gladders, fifteen years old, reported a prowler while her daughter was baby sitting at the Massaglia residence on El Hemorro, Robles Del Rio.

The prowler had been throwing pebbles at the window and banging on the side of the house.

Trout planted in Big Sur

The Big Sur River is scheduled for stocking with catchable size trout this week, according to the Department of Fish and Game. Weather conditions occasionally disrupt the plan, but at present the schedule stands.

There was no one there when the deputy arrived. Shortly after, her father arrived and stayed with her until the Massaglias returned. Deputy questioned neighbors and their children and it appeared that it was a prank type of prowler.

July 14--Isobel H. Higgins of White Oaks Cafe reported at 1 a.m. that she had seen a man peering through the window of the cafe which was closed. He then crossed the street and got into a blue Volkswagen and drove away. She gave the deputy his description.

July 13--Theresa G. Todd, employee of Carmel Valley Market, reported she closed the market the night before and took the days receipts home with her, $1,517.82. Then she and her family went out to dinner. The next morning when she counted the money $486 of the cash was gone and the only time it could have been taken was during those hours. Cash had been left on a chair in her kitchen. Deputy questioned her regarding her son but she said he could not have taken it since he was in Juvenile Hall. Investigation is continuing and the manager of the market indicated he would immediately change procedures for handling the cash.

By REX PRYER
Outlook Correspondent

July 12--Col. S.T.B. Johnson and his wife, Barbara, of Salsipuedes Road reported that the flags on their mailboxes have been bent again. They were bent July 11 and mail scattered in the vicinity of the box. Then the sheriff's office was called. No action taken, but they were told to call back again, if it happened again.

Golden Bough Players to present 'Billy Liar'

Concert of folk music Saturday

A folk music concert and "Hoot," in co-operation with the Monterey Peninsula Folk Music Society, is planned at Ft. Ord's Service Club on Saturday, July 31 at 8:30.

The show is free of charge and open to everyone.

Among the performers: Pat Cornet of Carmel; Joe Troxell, currently assigned to the Defense Language Institute in Monterey; Joe Broadman, a popular performer at hoots; Martha Smith, a student at Carmel High who sings her own compositions, and Eleanor Wallace, playing the lute and guitar.

One of the groups to appear is composed of Kit Snow, well-known for his guitar artistry; Dewie Dutton, called "The Discovery of the 1964 Folk Festival," and Keith Nelson, as master of the banjo.

Performers from the military community include Todd Cleave and the Lush Brothers, DLI, and Brent LeBaron of Ft. Ord, recently a winner in the Sixth Army Entertainment Contest.

Tentatively scheduled to appear are The Soddy Creek Ramblers from Salinas, doing their favorite Blue Grass numbers.

The second summer production of the Golden Bough Players opens on Friday evening at the Circle Theatre in Carmel. The play is the British comedy, "Billy Liar," by Keith Waterhouse and Willis Hall.

It is famed chiefly as the vehicle in which Albert Finney rose to stardom on the London stage. Finney went on to play the lead in the award-winning film, "Tom Jones."

Based on a novel of the same name by Waterhouse, "Billy Liar" paints a touching and hilarious portrait of a teen-age boy who uses his brilliant talent for lying as a means of escape from the insensitive society in which he is growing up.

Nick Hovick, recently seen in the leading role of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at MPC, is cast as Billy. Derek Lawford and Helen Vogel portray his north-country parents, and Jean McGill his peppery grandmother. Others in the cast are Layne Littlepage and Katrin Stoney as the two fiancées, Ann Brown as Billy's one true love, and Robert Barrett as a critical side-kick.

"Billy Liar" has been staged by Norman McPhee, recently appointed associate director of the Community Theatre, and designed by Carol McPhee.

It will play on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings through September 12.

Musical-variety show coming up

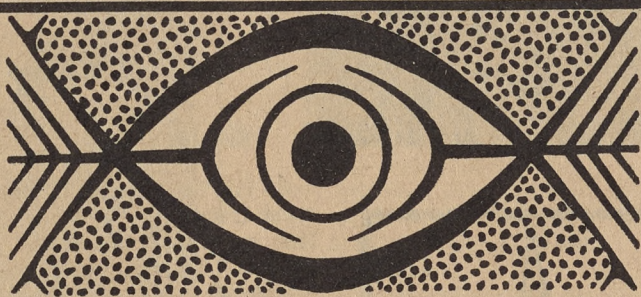

Practice is well under way for a variety show, "An Evening's Musicale," scheduled the evening of Aug. 7 at Sunset Auditorium.

Producers are Richard Penoyer and Marian Fischer. She was the successful producer of "Noon, Noon, and Snow" last fall.

Stars will include Jerry Winters, pianist and singer; Sue Scott, mezzo soprano and Mike Noon, banjo artist and comedian, who is currently appearing at "The Sequel Club," Vancouver, British Columbia.

YOUNGSTERS REVIEW 'OFF WITH HIS HONORABLE HEAD'

CHILDREN'S DRAMA, "Off With His Honorable Head," is being presented at White Oaks Theatre Saturdays at 2:30. Here are Skip Haston as "How Kum Sung," Barbara Gene Makinster as "Yin Yan" and Ken Backtold as "Emperor Wun Long Nap."

After the performance of the children's play, "Off With His Honorable Head," at White Oaks Theatre on Saturday some of the children were asked how they liked it.

They were all very enthusiastic and enjoyed seeing the members of the cast in their costumes after the play was over. Here are some of the comments from youngsters of different ages:

Five and six year olds seem to prefer the more violent parts.

"I thought the play was pretty good...I liked the way the princess stomped on their feet."

"I liked it best when they threw them into jail..."

"I liked it best when they went th-th-th-th-BOOM! Off with his honorable head!"

"I thought the play was funny...I laughed a lot."

Eight-year-old reactions were somewhat different.

"I thought the costumes were beautiful."

"I liked it when they threw the snow around...I wonder what it really was."

"I liked the donkey and her costume and her mask. She looked just like Eeyore!"

"The property manager was funny...the way she made so much noise when she shouldn't."

Those in the twelve year old category were a little more technical in their reactions.

"The scene on the bridge was exciting. They were good the way they made it seem real with just a propped-up board."

String Quartet to give 2 concerts

The Beyer String Trio will perform August 1 and 15 at a Carmel Arts Commission concert at Forest Theater at 2 p.m.

The trio is made up of Helen Beyer and Irwin Gordon, violinists, and Elaine Beyer, cellist.

Their August 1 program, which is sponsored by the Music Performance Trust Fund of Musicians' Union Local 616, will include the following:

Beethoven's String Trio, Opus 9, No. 2 in D major; Mozart's Quartet in D major for Flute and String Trio, featuring flutist Raymond Fabrizio, and Brahms Quartet, Opus 60, for Piano and String Trio, featuring pianist Wade Parks.

The concert is free to the public.

Valley artist Marlinde von Ruhs toasted at opening of exhibit

The collection of children's portraits by Valley artist Marlinde von Ruhs currently on exhibition at the Thunderbird delighted guests at a recent reception. The colors and imaginative approach to the child and his dream world make the show a happy thing to enjoy. "The Liontamer" with its huge lion and small child is provocative and the pensive elfin quality of "Julio" (Julio Dedina) is captivating. "In the Attic" stirs the imagination with its abstract quality bringing childhood memories.

Portraits of Nina Swan as young Helen Keller, Alison Work with her doll, and April Port with a minx-like expression catch the qualities of these children with a light touch. Many of the young models only posed for an hour or so for Marlinde, but she has caught their personalities.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second half of the Citizens Committee report on science for Carmel Unified School District. It is one of a series of reports with recommendations for improving school curricula, which were presented to the school trustees. Members of the Science Committee, which prepared this report, included Don E. Harrison, Jr., chairman; Stephen A. James, Evelyn Purvis, William M. Shanner and John D. Otter.)

Applications of scientific knowledge toward the solution of practical problems are almost totally lacking in the system. Some individual teachers, notably at Carmelo and the junior high, are attempting to relate their science programs directly to the everyday applications of science.

The high school biology program is particularly effective in this area.

themselves, if the district will cooperate.

The projected summer workshop promises to be excellent. A series of such projects, if competently led, will materially assist our program. We should maintain a continuing effort in this direction. A series of one year "scientists in residence" would be a logical extension of the workshop program.

The high school desperately needs additional well-qualified teachers in the physical sciences. We need individuals who are interested in science as part of our culture and who are also qualified to offer pre-professional programs.

OVERALL PLAN

We are convinced that an overall plan for a science program throughout the entire school system must be developed. Such a program must provide direction to science instruction at each administrative level (elementary, middle school and high school) as well as coordinate the science programs between these levels.

Some of our teachers must be assigned time to plan a realistic program and coordinate the efforts at various grade levels. The administration must insist that the teachers communicate among themselves, within and between levels, and provide time for that purpose.

We suggest that the CUSD plan to use teachers as coordinators rather than attempt professional coordination.

TOO LITTLE INTEREST

Much of science instruction involves individual learning, where class size and facilities are particularly important.

The qualified teacher is the best judge of class size, facilities, and equipment.

Equipment in itself is no measure of the quality of a science program. The criteria for equipment purchases depend upon (1) the objectives of the overall science program, (2) the student's level of maturity, and (3) the teacher's demonstrated ability to utilize the equipment for instructional purposes.

EVALUATION NEEDED

Little or no evidence was made available to the committee which could serve as a basis for the evaluation of the success of the existing science program. We do not follow our students on to college and/or the community in any systematic fashion to determine whether they have been well prepared to function in our society.

mine whether they have been well prepared to function in our society.

We recommend that a program of continuous review and evaluation be instituted along with any "new" science program to monitor its effectiveness. In this connection we hope that the next Citizens' Science Advisory Committee will be specifically charged to determine how much progress has been made since this report.

Our report is submitted to the school board with the hope that whatever action is taken will ultimately lead to the establishment of a realistic overall science program for the CUSD, for we believe that the existing program is seriously deficient in the many important respects we outlined above.

We find little evidence that our students are being prepared to apply science in their daily lives. Our counselors perpetuate the feeling that science is only for the scientifically oriented, and little student interest in science is generated in the schools.

Our system does not treat science as a cultural subject, such as history, which should be part of the background of every educated person. We do not offer understanding, only pre-professional training.

TEACHER QUALITIES

We are convinced that the quality of the science program will ultimately be determined by the enthusiasm, cooperation and professional preparation of the teaching staff. Our contribution is to encourage actions undertaken to improve these teacher qualities.

Our teachers have already begun to improve themselves. Many of them are taking extension courses. This continuing education program should be encouraged in every way possible, and participants should be recognized and assisted financially.

Our teachers have indicated that they are prepared to help

Firemen check gas tank

The Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department was called to Will's Fargo Restaurant when it was discovered that a butane tank was leaking. The fire crew tightened a loose safety valve. No damage occurred during the 2:30 p.m. call on July 17.

A report that sparks were blowing from an unattended incinerator took firemen to the Paso Cresta residence of Tom Burton where they extinguished the blaze July 18 at 2:20 p.m.

TEXAS VISITORS

A tour of the area was given Gladys Hutt and Lorraine Wheatley during their visit with their nieces and families, Mrs. Reg Bennett and Mrs. Chip Collins. The visitors had explored Yellowstone and were scheduled to visit Yosemite, dine at the Paladium in Los Angeles with Lawrence Welk, see Las Vegas and the Grand Canyon before returning home to Commerce, Texas.

Been to Carmel Valley Lately?

We were out there last week to see our Realtor friends and to visit the local bank. How that place is growing. You don't realize how large it is when you drive through it on Carmel Valley Road, but if you'll drive on through the Village and park near Holman Road, get out and look across the canyon, you'll see hundreds of homes nestled on the hillside. It's a beautiful view, we've insured a lot of that area. The only reason we mention it, is that we want you to know that just because the property you choose to live on is like this / instead of like this —, we'll still insure it for you. Land is land and no matter if it is on a hill or in a valley or out on the plains, it's still valuable. Don't ever take the risk of losing it because you didn't get a Title Policy. We've been in the business for thirty years, and it is said "Experience is a dear teacher". When in need of the services of a title company, keep Coast Counties Land Title Company in mind. We're easy to find and easier still to do business with.

Crush moving to England to study movie technique

By GINNIE DREW

More than the usual degree of excitement has accompanied the plans of Marion and Charles Crush for their trip to London.

It could be classified as a vacation for Charles, who hasn't taken a real break in the past eight years from his job in education at Soledad Correctional Facility. But more than that it means a complete change of direction for the Crush family.

They have sold their house, put their belongings in storage, and they plan to spend one or two years in England where Charles will study at the London School of Cinema Technique.

For sometime, Charles has been interested in furthering his avocation of photography and incorporating it into his educational work. Study in movie technique meant headquartering in Southern California or Europe, and the Crushes had no desire to move South.

They also did not want to fight a language barrier. It's not too easy to take lecture notes or learn technical data and translate at the same time.

They had never been to London and they felt it would be a wonderful experience for their two children, Jane, who will enter seventh grade next fall, and John, who will begin high school.

TRIPS TO CONTINENT

They plan many trips to the continent during vacations and will purchase a "van-type" automobile to hold their camping gear and photography equipment. They are also looking forward to weekend bike trips exploring the English and Scottish countryside.

Marion is going to pursue the possibility of joining one of the local repertory companies for theater training, and John, who is an accomplished student of the violin, hopes to attend the newly opened Yehudi Menuhin School of Violin in London.

He is particularly excited by this aspect of his education since such training is scarce in the United States.

After completing his first year of study at the London cinema school, Charles will determine whether they will remain abroad for a second year of instruction.

Their plans upon their return to the states are indefinite, but they are directing their efforts toward a future in pure cinema, educational films, documentaries and educational TV films.

When they left to drive east to pick up the children who have been visiting Marion's parents in Vermont, they revealed that they planned to leave their two dogs there for the duration of their stay in England. This will be an interesting surprise for Individual attention at Bishop Kip summer school

An ideal school situation, two teachers supervising 10 students, exists at Bishop Kip School which is meeting for the summer at All Saints' Episcopal Church.

The group consists of 9 to 12 year olds studying 4th through 6th grade work.

"But we don't think about grades," Mrs. Evelyn Smith explains. "We concentrate on individual needs and can give each student the help he needs on the spot."

Mrs. Smith is on the regular staff of Kip School. She is assisted for the summer by Mrs. Francena Hancock of the University of California, Berkeley.

Both women are enthusiastic about the summer program which is largely a remedial one but allows the student also to go ahead in his "strong" subjects. The program includes language arts, handwriting, speech expression and contemporary math.

UNDER THE OAKS AND AMONG THE CACTI

By MILDRED HATTAN

Summer campers planning to travel Highway 199 this year should watch for new public campgrounds at Cave Junction, Oregon opened recently by former Valley residents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Medkeff. Harold left for Oregon in May to construct camp sites, install showers, washing facilities, etc. and was joined by Kathy and the Medkeff daughters, Reneese, Achille, Tina and Celeste, at the end of the school year. A portion of the lush countryside of the Illinois Valley, the property is located between Crescent City, California and Grants Pass, Oregon.

In addition to their tourist business, the Medkeffs are busy renovating a large old house located on their acreage. Friends wishing to drop them a card may address them at Rt. 1, Box 400, Cave Junction, Oregon. Occupying the Medkeff home on Toyon Way are Mr. and Mrs. W. Montgomery Jones and their nine-year-old son. Formerly of Los Angeles, Mr. Jones is an attorney and co-owner of the Reef Motel.

SADDLE MOUNTAIN

The Saddle Mountain Ranch, always a busy spot in the summer time, has recently hosted large picnics for the Antique Car Club of Salinas, members of the Bach Festival and the Model A Club. Thursday the twenty seven children enrolled in S.A.B.L. and their instructor, Nancy Bottero of Palo Colorado, held open house for their parents and the general public.

Demonstrations were given in knowledge acquired during the five weeks of study by the group whose initials mean "See, Ask, Believe and Learn."

BRIDGE ENTHUSIASTS

Bridge enthusiasts are enjoying the Tuesday night sessions of the Los Laureles Bridge Club. Last week's winners were: first, Mr. and Mrs. Creston Crockett; second, Mrs. A.S. Bradley and Mrs. George Corrigan; third, Mr. and Mrs. G.M. Clifford. First place awards this week went to Mrs. Michael Antoncich and Mrs. Irene Baldwin; second, Mrs. A.S. Bradley and Mrs. George Corrigan, and third, Mr. and Mrs. E. Grovelle.

BIRTHDAY

Laura Lee Busick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Busick 32 River Road, celebrated her fifth birthday last week with a party at Happy Valley Birthday Park in Salinas. Guests enjoyed refreshments and playground equipment and mining for pennies in the Copper Mine. Attending were; Hillary and Cara Yuma, Scott and Shawn Swiess, Judy Wright, Lindy Yeager, Denise, Timmy and Laura Ann Sherman, and Laura's brothers, David and Mike. Accompanying the children were Mrs. Busick, Mrs. Mary Ann Yuma and Mrs. Kathy Sherman.

CHAPEL GUILD

The Bridge and Canasta Benefit sponsored by the Carmel Valley Community Chapel Guild met last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Elbert Wade, 17 La Rancheria. The afternoon's attendance was made up of 14 bridge and 9 canasta players. Assisting hostesses at the desert and coffee hour were Mrs. Nina Freeman and Mrs. Jenny Clark. Prizes for canasta were awarded for first place to Mrs. Irving Ollason and second to Mrs. Lucille Faye. Mrs. Gordon Brown won first place in bridge with second place going to Mrs. Vivian Palmer. The August 17th meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Irving Ollason. Anyone wishing to attend is asked to phone Mrs. Ida Duncan, 659-2502.

AUNTIE MARGE

So many young people enrolled for the summer reading program at the Carmel Valley Library that it became necessary for "cattle barron and librarian," Miss Marjorie Ibsen, to add the Walking Y Ranch and the Dragging 7 Ranch to the Tumbling T and the Me-2. There are 95 "cowhands" participating in the summer reading roundup. A small boy making his initial visit to the library last week was introduced to Miss Ibsen who welcomed him to her flock and told him, "You may call me Auntie Marge." "Can't," replied the solemn lad, "we haven't a telephone!"

VACATIONERS

Mr. and Mrs. George Baker were accompanied on their Colorado vacation by their daughter, Debbie and George's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baker of San Jose. The Baker family picked up a trailer in Grand Junction, Colo. They enjoyed the hot spring baths at Glenwood Springs, visiting Aspen, the historic mining town of Leadville and an all day round trip on the Narrow Gauge Railroad from Durango to Silverton. The nine car train travels on thirty six inch tracks through spectacular scenic beauty intensified by fields of Colorado columbine. In Gunnison, where George had grown up, Debbie caught a 14" trout. The Frank Bakers revisited their hometown, Cresta Butte, and here the entourage got a bird's eye view of Colorado from the 14,000 foot level reached via a ski lift.

CHRISTMAS IN JULY

Attics and closets were scoured last week for Christmas wrapping by the guests invited to the "Christmas in July" party given by Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. D. M. Willson. The gifts were placed in large "his and hers" red and green felt stockings adorning the front door at the Willson home on Story Road by members of Sect. EBA-5 of the Naval Postgraduate School.

Distributed later by a guest who arrived in the garb of St. Nick, guests found that the party had inspired imaginative gift purchases. Christmas decor was used throughout the house, and there was a small Christmas tree. An exquisite white net tree centered the table from which the buffet and cocktails were served.

Members of the communications and engineering department who moved the calendar forward (or would it be backward?) were; Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Chris Krahn, Lt. and Mrs. B.E. Todd, Lt. and Mrs. F.L. Fishback, Lt. and Mrs. W.F. Bass, Lt. and Mrs. B.F. Holt, Jr., Lt. and Mrs. R.A. Litten, Lt. and Mrs. R. M. Muench, Lt. and Mrs. J. K. Peiguss, Lt.

and Mrs. E. A. Renner, Lt. and Mrs. B. E. Todd, Lt. (jg) and Mrs. J. A. Petty.

Special guests were International student Lt. and Mrs.

Victor Goncalves of Portugal. Cmdr. Willson had pictures taken on a Mediterranean cruise of ports near Mrs. Goncalves' home which delighted her.

This is another in the series on colleges and universities as viewed by local collegians.

By LYNNE NORTON

Georgia Galloway received her Associate of Arts Degree this June after two years of study at Monterey Peninsula College.

This summer finds her at home at 110 Calle de Quien Sabe with her mother, Florence, awaiting the return of the merchant marine ship, S.S. Sooner State of which her father, Harry, is chief mate.

Georgia is now taking a music appreciation course at MPC and working part time as a waitress at the Carmel Valley Inn. This fall she will continue a family tradition by enrolling as a junior at the University of Washington where she will be a Spanish major. After graduation from the U of W, she plans to teach, probably at the secondary level.

A TOP J.C.

Georgia encourages students to attend MPC, "which is one of the top J.C.'s in the country. At a junior college there is not all of the pressure one finds at a university."

At MPC one receives a "good general liberal arts education" for two years after which one can transfer to a university. MPC also offers excellent complete two-year programs in such areas as dental and medical assisting and business-IBM and data processing. Through these programs, a student can get a good job after two years.

MPC offers adults in the community, as well as young people, the opportunity to further their fund of knowledge through formal education either during the day or at the extensive night school.

SYMPATHETIC TEACHERS

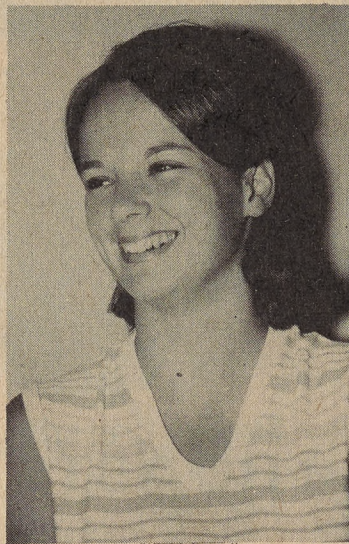

The teachers at MPC are on the whole excellent, she feels. "The good ones make up for the few poor ones. They are very sympathetic and are glad to take the time to talk to their students," declares Georgia.

"It is important to get good grades in college, but it is also important to learn about other people," Georgia feels that the best way to do this at MPC is to join some of the numerous clubs or participate in the active student government.

Students may easily join clubs at the Club Fair, held at the beginning of each semester. Each club sets up a table in the library patio and signs up new members.

MPC's many foreign students, "from all over," belong to the International Relations Club which Georgia declares is an excellent way to learn a lot about other countries' way of life.

MPC offers leadership training. All club presidents automatically belong to the Inter-Club-Council which is a branch of student government. Membership on the Council earns each president one half unit of college credit. Another half unit is earned by a political science class, Group Dynamics, also required of club presidents. The course includes parliamentary law and procedure.

PRESIDENT OF S.C.T.A.

Georgia, last fall's president of Students' California Teachers' Association, found this course and the I.C.C. "a very rewarding way of developing leadership."

Georgia rates MPC's twice monthly newspaper, El Yanqui, "exceptional." It has won many awards for its excellence.

"e.g.," MPC's creative magazine is also very good, Georgia reports. Mr. Waterhouse, "e.g.'s" advisor, is spending the summer in Athens, Greece, studying under a Fulbright scholarship.

Charity Week is a worth while and fun filled week held Spring semester at MPC. The week's activities are devoted to raising money for charity. These activities include Olympics, relay races and games; a book sale, an auction of box lunches, a bonfire, and dance.

Georgia finds MPC a mixture of study and fun, altogether a very fine introduction to college life.

Dr. George Greer to preach at Community Chapel in August

Dr. George Greer, well known Carmel Valley resident and retired Methodist minister will fill the pulpit of the C.V. Community Chapel in the absence of Rev. Don Johnson who is vacationing in Minnesota.

Following are the subjects for Dr. Greer's sermons:

August 1—"Broken Cisterns and Artesian Wells"

August 8—"The Gates To The Temple"

August 15—"The Unfinished Pyramid"

August 22—"The Bargain Hunter."

Cypress Swim Club waltz team 2nd in AAU meet

The Cotillian Waltz team of the Cypress Swim Club took 2nd place in Sunday's 1965 Senior Pacific AAU Synchronized Swimming Championship competition at Round Hill Country Club, near Danville.

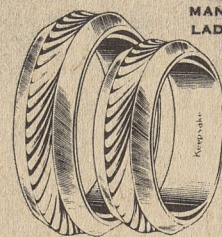

Team members Marsha and Marilyn Lane and Jan and Sharon Roehl won silver medals. Marsha and Marilyn took 3rd place and bronze medals for their duet, "Dream of Conquest," and Marilyn took a 3rd place ribbon in stunt competition.

The Lane sisters will be competing in the 1965 Senior National Outdoor AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships in Maumee, Ohio, next week.

CV Little League All Stars lose close game, 2-1

In one of the season's most exciting games, Carmel Valley All Star Little League team was nosed out of a win, 2 to 1, by the Seaside American League team last Saturday on the local diamond.

The local All Stars were scheduled to meet Marina at the Seaside diamond Tuesday night. Winner plays the next round Thursday.

In the tight competition, Carmel Valley's Craig Willis struck out seven batters, and reliever Tom Boyd pitched a perfect record, fanning another four Seaside's.

CV rang up two hits, by Jim Conlan and John Gardner, to Seaside's four hits.

The local boys scored their run in the first inning, and Seaside came through with its two in the fourth.

Ten-year-old Ted Hall was a stand-out for the locals in right field where he threw a runner out in a sensational play clear to home base. He also made a spectacular catch against the fence.

Hunters may zero in rifles at Ord

Hunters in the Ft. Ord area will have the chance to zero-in their weapons at the post's bench rest range on the week-end before deer season opens.

The range will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on July 31 and Aug. 1.

The Rod and Gun club will provide spotting scopes and targets. Any weapon may be used, including magnum. Firers must be more than 18 years old or accompanied by an adult. A $1 charge will be made.

CV artists to be featured in annual AFA tour

Carmel Valley will be the featured locale for the fifth annual Artists Studio Open House sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula chapter of the American Federation of Arts.

The AFA tour of well known artists' studios will take place on Saturday, August 7, from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. The artists will be hosts in their own studios or workshops.

In addition, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stanton and the country house of art patroness, Mrs. Henry Potter Russell will be open to the public.

Virginia Stanton's home will be used as a background for a "black tie" table setting, and at the Italian villa of Mrs. Russell, visitors will be able to view porcelains, antiques and paintings by such famous old masters as Fragonard, Manet and Monet.

LUNCH AT TANTAMOUNT

Halfway through the tour at the Tantamount Theatre, luncheon will be served from 11:30 to 2:30 under the oaks. The menu will consist of La Casa Rosa casserole, salad, French bread and brownies at a cost of $1.50. Paintings by Cachagua artist Jack Swanson and puppets and handweaving by Ralph Geddis and Francois Martin also will be featured at the theatre.

The tour will begin at the Community Room of Carmel Rancho Shopping Center where there will be a comprehensive exhibition of the work of Valley artists. Artists whose studios will be open for the tour are Jeannette Bedwell, Joe Ataide, Catherine and George Seideneck, Alex Weygers, Jeanne Fosnot, Margaret and Jim Ziegler, Rudy Marzi, Marlinde Von Ruhs, Eve Tartar Brown, Ann Rugh and Eugene Baker.

TICKETS AVAILABLE

Tour tickets at $3.00 for adults and $1.50 for children are available at the AFA Gallery on Lincoln in Carmel, Thunderbird Bookstore in Carmel Valley and at the studios on the day of the tour.

LIONS CLUB

The Carmel Valley Lions Club held their weekly dinner meeting Wednesday at the Plaza Linda Restaurant. Guest speaker was Ron Mitchell of the White Oaks Theater.
